

"Nature hath framed strange fellows in her time"—be we can fit them.

Some light on the "extra sizes!"

Very large stout men. Slender men "going up" must be more particular, not only in size and fit, but especially in the patterns of their suits.

Some stores don't give the proper attention to this detail of their business.

We do!—An array of stylish patterns, PURE WOOL fabrics—all hand tailored, in "extra" sizes for the "hard-to-fit."

Very tall men; Very thin men; Very fat men; Very stout men;

Next time you're down our way—see them. At our usual reasonable prices.

Commemorate Columbus Day.

In commemoration of the landing day of Columbus, the Knights of Columbus gave a musical program and banquet in their hall on West Center street, Wednesday evening.

There were about one hundred and fifty guests present, including the knights, their families and friends, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. A musical program rendered by a number of Marion's most talented musicians was greatly enjoyed, as was an address delivered by William P. Moloney, Police Chief, on the program, a sumptuous banquet was served, after which the remainder of the evening was spent in social diversions.

A piano solo, "Il Trovatore," played by Miss Elizabeth Molloy, was the opening number of the informal program. Miss Molloy gave an excellent interpretation of the selection and was heartily applauded. A vocal duet, "Lullaby," by William P. Moloney and Miss Elizabeth Molloy, was especially pleasing, as was also a vocal solo, "Carmen," by William P. Moloney. Miss Elizabeth Molloy responded with an encore, "The Nightingale," which was also well received. Mr. Moloney gave a brief summary of the life of Columbus, his persistent efforts in the accomplishment of the task he undertook, and his final victory and achievement. Mr. Moloney urged upon the benefits accruing to us from the voyage of Columbus and his landing, and spoke of the rapid growth and greatness of our country.

"For Love's Sake," a tenor solo sung by Jules Martin, was one of the most highly appreciated numbers of the program, and was followed by an equally pleasing song, "The Nightingale," sung by Mrs. Cornelius Breen. Miss Nona Kelly and Dr. R. Ramroth were accompanists.

Anniversary Celebrated.

The eighteenth birthday anniversary of Burton Blair was celebrated in a very pleasant way last evening when boys of the K. G. S. club called informally at his home on South Main street. Games and conversation made the evening delightful and refreshments were served. The host was presented with several handsome gifts.

Miss M. F. Aubrey

One of the young women who will make their debut in Washington society this winter will be Miss M. F. Aubrey, grand daughter of the late Chief Justice Fuller. She is popular in the younger set and much given to outdoor sports and exercise.

Harmony Society.

The Harmony society of Salem's Evangelical Protestant church held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. A. Cull on Elm street. There was a large attendance.

This was a sewing session and the members plied needles in the busy work session and chatted pleasantly. Refreshments were served to the guests at the close of the afternoon, after which the members lingered to intermingling socially.

The members will meet again the second Wednesday in November with Mrs. Otto Ebling on Charles street.

Cabinet Meeting.
The cabinet of the Powell Sunday school class, of Epworth Methodist church, will hold a meeting Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank Beverly, 525 South Vine street.

Every seat in the great Memorial hall was filled last evening and over a hundred crowded the stage to hear Miss Geraldine Farrar and Mr. Edvard Clement, in the first artist recital of the Columbus season, and among the great assemblage a number of Marion people were present to hear the artists.

Miss Farrar, who is one of the most popular singers of the day, fulfilled in every respect the expectations of her audience, winning her hearers from the first with the rare beauty and quality of her voice, rare interpretation.

Three tables were filled and the interesting rubbers absorbed the attention of the players until ten o'clock when the hostess covered the tables with pretty lunch clothes and served a good lunch of refreshing viands.

The players were: Misses Helen Rosenberg, De Mott Morris, Donna Roth Crisinger, Hazel Harvey, Edith Smith, Messrs. Frank Knapp, Ernest Watson, Godfrey Lofley, Clifford Gillette, Day Orr, and James Woods.

Miss Bessie Dondore gave a farewell party last evening for Mrs. Paul Bailey who will leave soon for Ada to make her home.

The girls of the Girl Scout club and a few guests were invited. The evening was spent with music and conversation and during the course of the evening the girls expressed to Mrs. Bailey their regrets at her departure from the city. A lunch was served buffet fashion from the prettily appointed table in the dining room.

Guests aside from the club members were Mrs. Wells Kramer, and Miss Anna Sechrist.

Mrs. J. N. Bentzen has returned to her home in Upper Sandusky after a few days visit with friends in Marion.

Miss Mae Dye is visiting Upper Sandusky relatives.

Jacob Rieger spent Wednesday in Galien on business.

Mrs. Abby Rieck and son, Donald, left this morning for their home in Seattle, Washington, after spending several weeks here as the guests of relatives and friends.

George S. Ross and brother, Lowell Ross, left this morning for an extended tour of the East.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Paddock left today for a three weeks visit through the west.

Paul (last of Prospects) is spending the day in Marion.

Misses Flo and Stella Stark will leave this evening for Columbus where they will visit friends.

FAT WOMEN, FAT MEN, THERE IS HOPE; THINK! THINK! THINK! SINGER'S ADVICE

Geraldine Farrar, the famous American opera singer, just back from her summer abroad, is no longer threatened with the obesity that so alarmed her before her departure. She says she reduced her waist line by steady thinking, getting her ideas from the fact that persons who exercise their brain by worrying never grow fat.

church, will meet in the pastor's study, Friday evening. A full attendance of the officers is desired, as there are several matters of importance to be considered.

Miss Grace Campbell Honored.

Miss Pearl Campbell entertained with an informal dinner party Tuesday evening as a courtesy to her cousin, Miss Grace Campbell, whose engagement to Mr. Guy Fisher, of east of the city, was announced during the week. There were ten covers at the prettily appointed table and the evening was spent socially.

Embroidery Circle Entertained.

The members of the Ladies' Embroidery circle went to Forest yesterday morning to be the day guests of Mrs. Crum, who was formerly a resident of Marion and a member of the club. The members arrived during the morning hours and spent the day in the delightful pleasures of conversation and intermingling that are characteristic of the meeting of congenial friends.

When the noon hour arrived the hostess invited her guests to the dining-room where an elegant dinner, which was one of the features of the day, was served. The table was drawn to long dimensions and tall roses and foliage figured in the attractive floral decorations.

Afternoon hours were spent about the pretty parlors chatting over embroidery hoops and fine needle-work. Mrs. Crum's guests were: Mrs. J. H. Dundore, Mrs. H. C. Krause, Mrs. J. W. Hunsate, Mrs. Marshall McKinstry, Mrs. Fred Strobel, Mrs. H. E. Klinefelter, Mrs. Martin Kauble, Mrs. Callie Court, Mrs. B. T. Shurz, Mrs. Emily Peardon and Mrs. W. H. Foster. Mrs. H. C. Carlton was a guest of the club.

The next regular meeting of the members will be held a week from today with Mrs. Eva Copeland on South Prospect street.

Concert and Lecture.

The lecture which will be given this evening at the Epworth Methodist church, by Mother Lake, will be upon the subject, "When Ma nix King." This particular lecture is one of the best which is offered by any speaker today and has delighted hundreds all over America. The following program of music will be rendered by the Epworth Sunday school orchestra, under the auspices of which the lecture is being given:

Coronation March from Folkinger, Kretschmer.

Stradella Overture, Flotow.

Contralto solo, "Down the shadow'd lane She Goes," Osgood, Mrs. B. L. Wallack.

Serenade, Drige.

Selection from the Golden Butterfly, DeKoven.

The members of the Health and equally divided. Mr. Clement possesses a lyric tenor voice of wonderful beauty and he renders his songs in such a way as to immediately place him in the front rank of artists.

The singers were accompanied by Mr. rank La Paro who ranks as first among American accompanists.

Among those attending the concert from Marion were Miss Iva Coll, Mrs. James Gathery and her sister Mrs. Juvenly of Upland; Miss Iva Coll, Miss Frances Bowdell, Miss Helen Snyder and Miss Sadamie Allen.

Miss Dora Nash entertained the members of her bridge club last evening at her South Prospect street home.

Three tables were filled and the interesting rubbers absorbed the attention of the players until ten o'clock when the hostess covered the tables with pretty lunch clothes and served a good lunch of refreshing viands.

The players were: Misses Helen Rosenberg, De Mott Morris, Donna Roth Crisinger, Hazel Harvey, Edith Smith, Messrs. Frank Knapp, Ernest Watson, Godfrey Lofley, Clifford Gillette, Day Orr, and James Woods.
